1. What is a cookie?

A cookie is information that is generally small and identified by a name, which can be transferred to your browser by a website you are connected to. Your web browser will save it for a certain period and resend it to the web server each time you reconnect.

Certain cookies are necessary for the Site's functioning, for example, cookies allow you to log in to the Site and manage your deposits, winnings and withdrawals. Other cookies are used to improve your gaming experience. An example of such a cookie is your language choice; when you visit the site again, this cookie will allow your browser to be recognised and, therefore, keep your language choice. Other cookies are used to give you personalised content or adverts.

The above are some examples of the cookies listed below in section 2, which contains the complete list of cookies the Site and its partners use.

The retention period for cookies varies depending on the type of cookie. Certain cookies are automatically deleted when you leave the Site, others are saved for longer. The retention period of our cookies is also defined below in section 2.

2. Why does the Site use cookies?

The Site and its partners use four categories of cookies, namely:

- Essential cookies: the cookies that are necessary for the functioning of the Site and, notably, for the purposes of allowing players to access the offer of online gaming and betting, and allowing the Site to fulfil these legal and contractual obligations;

- Performance cookies: the cookies that measure the Site's performance and that of adverts displayed;

- Cookies for advertising purposes: the cookies that allow you to receive advertising, particularly personalised adverts and create a personalised profile so you are not shown adverts that do not correspond to your profile.

The use of cookies by the Site and its partners requires your consent with the exception of essential cookies.
